Dear Dr. Barach:

Thank you for your cordial letter of July 1st
respecting my appointment.

Regarding the question you raise, I can see no objection at all to your making the materials available to your foreign colleague.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
Director

DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE

July 1, 1953

Dear Mr. Dulles:

I was delighted to hear of your appointment and probably should have written you at once. I remember our many pleasant moments at the house of Charles Wrightsman.

I have enclosed two communications with which I am, perhaps, bothering you unnecessarily, but I would like to know whether Yugoslavia is considered behind the Iron Curtain to such an extent that I should not send the doctor my reprints on oxygen treatment and things of that kind. All this material has been published and I really don't see any reason why we should not be of help to Yugoslavia in this medical way. I hope I am not bothering you too much to ask for an answer to this.

I hope that our paths may cross soon again. With my best wishes, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Alvan L. Barach
